

Consultant Exchange

Welcome to the Q1 2020 Consultant Exchange Newsletter. Things have changed significantly since our last edition. More than ever, recent events highlight the importance of staying connected. We hope the attached content provides further clarity around what is happening and how we continue to support our clients during these unprecedented times.

In this issue, we highlight our new COVID-19 Information Center where you can find timely market and industry insights. Listen to Orla Foley and Adrian Whelan discuss the regulatory response to COVID-19, and Chris Gothard and Mark Whitehead tackle FX considerations for asset managers in a highly volatile market, as examples from our new "Staying Connected" Webcast series. We also include new thought leadership from our custody, ETFs, and cross-border fund servicing areas.

In 2020, cross-border settlement failures will come with a new set of potentially costly penalties thanks to the new settlement discipline rules.

READ MORE

BBH partnered with ETF.com to survey global institutional investors, financial advisors, and fund managers to identify key trends in the ETF market.

READ MORE

New legislation in the Cayman Islands aims to better align their fund regulations with other jurisdictions.

READ MORE

Visit our COVID-19 resource center on BBH.com, which includes:

Staying Connected Webcast: Asset Managers FX Considerations

Staying Connected Webcast: Regulators Respond to COVID-19

Staying Connected Webcast: ETFs Weather the Storm

On the Regs Blog Post: The Three Pillars of COVID-19 Regulation

Questions? Comments?
We want to hear from you.

Elaine NiGhallchoir
Head of European Consultant Engagement
elaine.nighallchoir@bbh.com
+44 (0) 207 614 2485

Consultant Exchange

Welcome to the Q1 2020 Consultant Exchange Newsletter, brought to you from my kitchen -- things have changed since our last edition.

In this issue, we highlight our new COVID-19 Information Center where you can find timely market and industry insights during these unprecedented times. Listen to Orla Foley and Adrian Whelan discuss the regulatory response to COVID-19 as part of our new "Staying Connected" Webcast series, as an example. We also include new thought leadership from our custody, ETFs, and cross-border fund servicing areas.

In 2020, cross-border settlement failures will come with a new set of potentially costly penalties thanks to the new settlement discipline rules.

READ MORE

BBH partnered with ETF.com to survey global institutional investors, financial advisors, and fund managers to identify key trends in the ETF market.

READ MORE

New legislation in the Cayman Islands aims to better align their fund regulations with other jurisdictions.

READ MORE

Visit our COVID-19 resource center on BBH.com, which includes:

Staying Connected Webcast: Asset Managers FX Considerations

Staying Connected Webcast: Regulators Respond to COVID-19

Staying Connected Webcast: ETFs Weather the Storm

On the Regs Blog Post: The Three Pillars of COVID-19 Regulation

Questions? Comments?
We want to hear from you.

Ross Connell, Senior Vice President
Interim Head of Consultant Engagement
ross.connell@bbh.com
+1 617 772 1128